The Case of John Lawrence. The motions for new trial and arrest of judgment, in the case of John Law ence, was overruled by Judge Grubb, on Monday last. He will be sentenced on Saturday next. His attorneys intend to file a bill of exceptions, and appeal the case to the supreme court. The cases of Charles C. The and Alex C. Broughton, charged with murder, were continued until the March Term of the Buchanan circuit court.

We were gratified to notice our felow citizen Joseph Rea going about town on Tuesday last. He has recovered sufficiently from the effects of his fall through the Amazonia bridge, a few months ago, as to be able to go about. Mr. Cronser, the gold miner, gave us a pleasant call last Saturday and furnished us with further informatic n in regard to his diggings. He says it is a mistake about him having been led to dig because told to do so by his daughter, who is a trance medium. He says he is an old miner and saw signs which led him to believe gold was not far off, and that he had been at work some time before he know his daughter was mediumistic. He showed us a number of specimens of gold bearing quartz in which the precious metal waplainly perceivable. He also informed us he had found there a number of valuable stones, consisting of amethysts, rubies, topaz, blood stone, etc. In a few days he will commence sinking a new shaft about three hundred and fifty feet turther up the hill, and is confident that this time he will "strike it big."

I am aware that there is a prejudic against any man engaged in the manufacture of alcohol. I know there is a prejudice against a case of this kind; and there is a very good reason for it. I believe to a certain degree with the District Attorney in this case, who has said that every man who makes alcohol is demoralized, I believe, gentlemen, to a certain degree, it demoralizes those that sell it, and those that drink it. I believe, from the time it issues from the poisoned and coiled worm in the distillery until it empties into the hell of death, dishonor and crime, that it demoralizes everybody that touches it. I do not believe anybody can contemplate the subject without becoming prejudiced against that liquid crime. All we have to do, gentlemen, is to think of the wrecks on either bank of the stream of death; of the suleide, of the insanity, of the poverty, of the ignorance, of the wrecks on either bank of the stream of death; of the suleide, of the insanity, of the men of genius that it has rained-of men struggling with imaginary serpents produced by this devilish thing; and when you think of the jails, of the aims-houses, of the asylums, of the prisons, of the scaffolds on either bank, and of the numberless sunken and neglected graves, filled with the victims of this hellish thing, I do not wonder that facture of alcohol. I know there is a lected graves, filled with the victims of this helish thing, I do not wonder that every thoughtful man is prejedleed against it.

The most of us have been slaves and driving the sides to weigh thirty eight pounds each. Pretry good hogs!

Holt county's fat hogs have commenced moving toward the market.

Last Friday Mr. Ira Reeme weighed 695 head, averaging 307 pounds. Among these were a number that belonged to Uriah Copeland, which averaged 4123 pounds per head. The hogs shipped on Friday were destined partly for St. Joe, and partly for Kansas City.

The following extract from the argument of Colonel R. G.
